VEGETINE
FOR Chills, Shakes,
FEVER AND AGUE.

TARBORO, N. C., 1873.

DR. H. R. STEVENS :—

Dear Sir—I feel very grateful for what your valuable medicine, Vegetine, has done in my family, I wish to express my thanks by informing you of the wonderful cure of my son; also, to let you know that Vegetine is the best medicine I ever saw for Chills, Shakes, Fever and Ague. My son was sick with measles in 1873, which left him with Hip-joint disease. My son suffered a great deal of pain, all of the time; the pain was so great he did nothing but cry. The doctors did not help him a particle, he could not lift his foot from the floor, he could not move without crutches. I read your advertisement in the Louisville Courier-Journal, that Vegetine was a great Blood Purifier and Blood Food. I tried one bottle, which was a great benefit. He kept on with the medicine, gradually gaining. He has taken eighteen bottles in all, and he is completely restored to health, walks without crutches or cane. He is twenty years of age. I have a younger son fifteen years of age, who is subject to Chills. Whenever he feels one coming on, he comes in, takes a dose of Vegetine and that is the last of the Chill. Vegetine leaves no bad effect upon the system like most of the medicines recommended for Chills. I cheerfully recommend Vegetine for such complaints. I think it is the greatest medicine in the world.

Respectfully, MRS. J. W. LLOYD.

VEGETINE.—When the blood becomes lifeless and stagnant, either from change of weather or of climate, want of exercise, irregular diet, or from any other cause, the Vegetine will renew the blood, carry off the putrid humors, cleanse the stomach, regulate the bowels, and impart a tone of vigor to the whole body.

VEGETINE
FOR Dyspepsia, Nervousness,
AND GENERAL DEBILITY.

BERNARDSTON, MASS., 1878.

We, the undersigned, having used Vegetine, take pleasure in recommending it to all those troubled with humors of any kind, Dyspepsia, nervousness, or General Debility, it being the Great Blood Purifier. Sold by H. T. Criswell & Sons, who sell more of it than all other patent medicine put together.

MRS. L. F. PERKINS.
MRS. H. W. SCOTT.
JOSEPHUS SLATE.

VEGETINE is the great health restorer—composed exclusively of barks, roots, and herbs. It is very pleasant to take; every child likes it.

VEGETINE
NERVOUS HEADACHE
And Rheumatism.

CINCINNATI, O., April 9, 1877.

H. R. STEVENS, Esq.:—

Dear Sir,—I have used your Vegetine for nervous headache, and also for rheumatism, and have found entire relief from both, and take great pleasure in recommending it to all who may be likewise afflicted.

FRED. A. GOOD,
168 Mill St., Chin.

VEGETINE has restored thousands to health who had been long and painful sufferers.

VEGETINE.
DRUGGISTS' TESTIMONY

MR. H. R. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir,—We have been selling your remedy, the Vegetine, for about three years, and take pleasure in recommending it to our customers, and in no instance where a blood purifier would reach the case, has it ever failed to effect a cure, to our knowledge. It certainly is the no plus ultra of renovators.

Respectfully,
E. M. SHEPHERD & CO., Druggists.
Mt. Vernon, Ill.

Is acknowledged by all classes of people to be the best and most reliable blood purifier in the world.

SATURDAY, APRIL 6, 1878

GENERAL NEWS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

GEN. BUTLER AND THE DEMOCRATS.

HE NOMINATES THEIR DOOR-KEEPER.

Engraving and Printing for Treasury Department.

WASHINGTON, April 5.

The Banking and Currency Committee today decided, by a vote of 6 to 3, that all printing and engraving of bank notes and other securities shall be done in the Treasury Department.

The bank-note lobby, which has been industriously at work to get a portion of the printing, have now transferred their efforts to the Senate Committee to defeat this measure.

THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE.

The spirit of the Congressional Republican Committee last night was undoubtedly hostile to the Administration, but it was generally conceded that the party could be successful if they were all united, whatever might be the disposition of the majority of its members toward the President. Ex-Secretary Chandler is reported as saying that the President is the heaviest load that the party has to carry. Mr. Foster of Ohio was the principal defender of the Administration.

MONTGOMERY BLAIR'S SCHEME.

Montgomery Blair visits the Capitol daily to talk with the members of Congress on the subject of displacing Hayes. He says it is not his cause, but that of the people of Maryland, who did not pass the resolution on his account or because of his personal popularity, for the Democrats in the Legislature gave him only two votes for United States Senator.

THE POST OFFICE APPROPRIATION BILL.

The House Appropriation Committee this morning completed the Post Office Appropriation bill. The amount of reduction is $833,000 over the bill of last year.

A PERSONAL EXPLANATION.

Frye of Maine rose to a personal explanation, and read a letter from one of the Democrats upon the soldier's roll, who said he was placed on the roll without his knowledge and against his protest.

PRINTING OF NATIONAL BANK NOTES.

The Banking and Currency Committee this morning decided that all printing of National Bank currency shall be printed in the Treasury. This is a defeat of all the bank note companies.

General Butler threw a bombshell into the Democratic camp today by proposing the election of General Shields of Missouri to the vacant doorkeepership. The Democrats raised the point that it was not in order, and insisted that they desired to select their own men in their own way by caucus. This led to spicy sparring between Butler and members on the Democratic side.

Mr. Cox alluded to the fact that Butler had aided the Democrats in gaining two votes, and intimated that he was growing in grace. Butler replied that when he left the Democratic party it was composed of honorable men, and when it again reached that standard he might be willing to return.

The Democrats found themselves in a dilemma, not wishing to record themselves against the Union soldier, which was in conflict with the plan to elect an ex-Confederate.

The Democrats insisted that it was not a question of privilege, and asked that the matter be postponed until Monday.

The Speaker ruled that it was for the House to determine.

The Polk men are so incensed at their treatment that they threaten to sustain Butler's resolution.

AFFAIRS IN LOUISIANA.

Ex-Governor Pinchback had an interview with the President last night, in which he took occasion to express his views concerning the needs of Louisiana. He represents the interview to have been pleasant and satisfactory. Pinchback says the State has now the best governor of any other within his recollection; that the people generally are better satisfied than heretofore with the condition of affairs, although people there, as elsewhere, complain of hard times. The only thing of which Pinchback complains in that the few children nearly white in the public schools of New Orleans have been required to leave them. They should, he says, have been permitted to remain until faded out by increase of years. His own children were included in the number removed by the school authorities.

THE NEW ORLEANS COLLECTORSHIP.

J. Madison Wells and P. B. S. Pinchback, of Louisiana, have arrived here to take an active part in the contest for the New Orleans Collectorship. The latter has had an interview with the President regarding the matter, and is bitterly opposed to Packard's appointment. Wells is in favor of Anderson first and Packard second. Senator Kellogg's friends say he will oppose Anderson's confirmation if the President nominates him.

Tilden's Declarations.

NEW YORK, April 5.

Samuel J. Tilden told an interviewer he was as much a candidate for emperor of China as governor of New York, and as to the effect of Blair's resolution, he said he didn't want to speak about presidential matters, and that the "good sense and love of justice inherent in the American people will finally right all things."

SERIOUS RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

Burning of a Bridge and Oil Cars.—Fatal Results of an Explosion.

MAUCH CHUNK, Pa., April 5.

Between 4 and 5 o'clock this afternoon an oil train ran into the rear end of a freight train on the Lehigh Valley Railroad near Slatington. The collision caused an explosion of the engine attached to the oil train and set fire to several cars of oil, which were burned together with a small bridge on which the cars were standing. Soon afterward an oil tank exploded, scattering the burning oil in all directions. Three men were fatally and ten others severely burned. The wind was very high and carried the flames to the depot and a wooden bridge, which were destroyed. Fire engines and other assistance were sent from Mauch Chunk but, at 10.30, however, the fire was considered under control.

THE BRITISH CIRCULAR.

Russia's Tone Defiant and Warlike.

NEW YORK, April 5.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg says the official journal today adopts a defiant and warlike tone respecting Lord Salisbury's note.

London dispatches say officials of the admiralty have gone to Belfast to superintend the equipment of private steamers to be used as cruisers in case war is declared.

RUSSIA CALLS OUT MORE TROOPS.

Status of the Funds.

NEW YORK, April 5.

London telegrams this morning say that while England is awaiting the Czar's reply, peace prospects are apparently receding, and there are more threatenings of war.

Russia has decided to call out more troops.

Consols at noon were heavy, and ⅛ lower than last night.

American bonds have further advanced ⅛ to ¼ per cent., except for 10-40s, which declined ¼ per cent.

THE BRITISH FLEET IN THE DARDANELLES.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 5.

British ironclad Devastation has arrived in the Gulf of Ismid. No more iron-clads are expected in the Sea of Marmora, but the fleet in Besika Bay will be strengthened.

THE NEGOTIATIONS.—PREPARATIONS ON BOTH SIDES.

At the last interview between the Sultan and the Grand Duke Nicholas, the former reiterated his protest against any attempt to embark Russian troops at Bujuk Dere. The Turks at Maslak and Bujuk Dere are constructing an entrenched camp. They received artillery and a quantity of munitions. The Russians are constructing barracks and accumulating provisions at San Stefano.

THE MURDER OF MR. OGLE.

ATHENS, April 5.

The British Consul at Larissa has arrived at Volo and demanded the delivery of the murderers of Mr. Ogle to justice.

A CRETAN VICTORY.

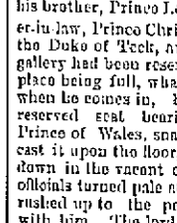

The Turks attempted to dislodge the Cretans from their positions near Cydonia, and after four days fighting the insurgents were victorious.

Lord Houghton, an English peer, is well and favorably known in this country. His freedom from conventionalism is well illustrated by a recent incident which happened at the house of commons and is thus related by a correspondent: "The Prince of Wales was expected at the house, together with his brother, Prince Leopold, and his brother-in-law, Prince Christian, and his cousin, the Duke of Teck, and certain seats in the gallery had been reserved for them. The place being full, what does Houghton do, when he comes in, but march up to the reserved seat bearing the name of the Prince of Wales, snatch up the ticket and cast it upon the floor, and then coolly sat down in the vacant chair! The horrified officials turned pale at the discourtesy, and rushed up to the peer and remonstrated with him. The lord would not budge an inch, but held the seat in despite of all demonstrations to the contrary, until—what? Why, until the Prince of Wales came in, with his charming air of bon hommie, and bowed and smiled to the obstinate lord, and thanked him as graciously when he arose as if it had been a seat in a crowded street-car that had been kindly offered him."

THE SLATINGTON, PA., DISASTER.

Two Men Killed, Nineteen Burned—Six Seriously.

FURTHER PARTICULARS OF THE EXPLOSION.

The Loss of Life.

PHILADELPHIA, April 5.

In the Slatington, Pa., railroad accident today, two men were killed, and fourteen to fifteen seriously burned. Wm. Shoemaker, of Lockport, was instantly killed. The name of the other man killed is not yet ascertained.

PRESENCE OF MIND SAVES THE TOWN.

But for the presence of mind of Charles Ruth, of Reading, who suggested the cars of the rear portion of the train be uncoupled, and by main force pushed them back, one by one, the entire town would have been destroyed. Twenty cars were pushed back, and the wind blowing south from the town prevented further damage. The machine shop and foundry of Brown & Williams is a total loss, estimated at $30,000; no insurance.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

JANUARY SESSION.

SENATE.

FRIDAY, April 5.

Mr. Tillinghast, of Pawtucket, from the Committee on the Judiciary, reported back House resolution granting leave to Anthony A. Manchester and others to build a wharf in Seaconnet River in Tiverton.

Mr. Dyer of North Kingstown reported back from the Committee on Militia, an act to revise, consolidate and amend the several laws relating to the militia. This act was reported in pursuance with a resolution of instructions to the Committee on the Militia, and contains the amendments proposed in the present session. Laid on the table temporarily.

House resolution for the adjournment of the General Assembly on April 12th, to meet according to law, was received and laid on the table temporarily.

The bill for "an act to limit the indebtedness and the taxes which may be imposed on towns and cities," came back from the House with request for a Committee of Conference in the Senate amendments to Section 3.

Mr. Davis, of Providence, moved the Senate recede from its amendments.

A vote was then taken and the motion to recede was lost.

The Senate then acceded to the request of the House for a conference committee, and Mr. Tillinghast and Chase were appointed to serve as conferees, on the part of the Senate.

Mr. Fisher, of Scituate, from the Committee on the Judiciary report back House act concerning the planting of trees and the taxes thereon. Concurred in.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

On motion of Mr. Sheffield, of Newport, the rules were suspended that the action of the House on the tax limitation bill might be sent to the Senate at once.

Mr. Moies, of Lincoln, offered a resolution for final adjournment on Friday, April 12. Passed without a division.

Mr. Spooner, of Bristol, from the Committee on Printing, reported favorably Senate resolution to print the annual report of the Cattle Commissioners. Passed in concurrence.

Mr. Sheffield, of Newport, called up the Charlestown election case, and proceeded to give the reasons that influenced his opinion as expressed in the majority report.

Mr. Colt, of Bristol, disagreed with the opinion of Mr. Sheffield concerning the testimony, and argued against his conclusions.

The resolution was read as follows :—

Resolved, That Charles Holden was not legally elected a Representative from the town of Charlestown, on the first Wednesday in April last, and that the seat he occupies in this House he, and hereby is, declared vacant.

This resolution was passed by a vote of 39 yeas to 17 nays.

JAMESTOWN.

At the annual town meeting holden in Jamestown on Wednesday April 3d the following officers were elected :

Moderator—T. Carr Watson.

Voted that a tax of 50 cents on each and every one hundred dollars of the valuation of the town of Jamestown is ordered, and the Assessors of Taxes are hereby ordered to assess said tax on the rateable property of the inhabitants and corporate bodies of said town between the first and last days of June 1878, and the Collector of Taxes is hereby ordered to collect and pay the same into the Town Treasury between the first and last days of August 1878. All sums not paid at such time will be charged at the rate of twelve per cent. a year, in addition.

Everybody knows that it is de rigeur for ladies to wear a head-dress of feathers when presented to the Queen. Why it should be so is neither here nor there—the rule is well-known and has to be complied with. But feathers are not becoming, especially to young ladies, on whom, indeed, they look ridiculous to the last degree. At the last drawing-room reception given by Queen Victoria one or two of the rollicking and audacious beauties of the day determined to incite a rebellion, and appear at Court without the feathers. This was a bold experiment, for the Queen notices everything, and will not suffer the slightest deviation from established rule or discipline. The disposition to make light of "conventionalities" and "old-fashioned forms," so characteristic of the present age, is not shared by Her Majesty. When, therefore, the first of the fair rebels appeared before her with a flower in her hair instead of the feathers, a degree of displeasure was manifested which made the offender very sorry that she had ever been led into attempting so foolish an experiment. The ally who was waiting in the background deemed it prudent to beat a speedy retreat. The Lord Chamberlain was commanded to issue afresh the commands of Her Majesty on the subject, and it is pretty certain that no one will have the hardihood to transgress again for some time to come. After all, if there are rules they ought to be obeyed, and while the Queen lives the "free and easy" style of the present day will not be tolerated at court, wherever else it may rule.—[Mr. Jenning's London Letter.

I do not remember any case of "rehabilitation" quite so speedy and complete as that of ex-Col. Valentine Baker, whose escapade with the young lady in the train brought him to terrible grief, two or three years ago. Total ruin overwhelmed him, and there seemed not the slightest chance of his ever escaping from it. But he is now one of the lions of the day, and probably gets more invitations to dinner than any other man in London. The clubs from which he was expelled have either re-elected him or will soon do so, and the "Marlboro" and "Beefsteak" have made him an honorary member. All this is partly owing to the popularity of the Turkish cause, which "Baker Pasha" has fought well to assist.—[London Letter.

TEN YEARS EXPERIENCE
—IN THE—
ROSS SYSTEM OF CULTIVATION.

With the Ross Implements, has never failed to produce astonishing results in the cultivation of all Hoed crops, when rightly understood and directions strictly followed, either flat or hill culture, by which the crops are greatly increased, weeds thoroughly exterminated, saving all the hard labor of planting and hoeing, doing the work much better, producing larger crops in wet seasons, and carries them through a dry one three or four times as long as hand culture, which adds greatly to the crops maturing and lessens the expense of production materially. The most thorough pulverizer in use for mixing soil, manures and fertilizers together, for putting in wheat, oats or rye broadcast, and increasing the crops of grain, also grass for several years, by giving such pulverizing qualities and thorough mixture of soil and fertilizers. Equally good for corn, potatoes, tobacco and root crops, peas and beans, in all soils, whether sand, loam or clay. A stiff clay sod made as old land by using the cultivator before planting, at half the expense of the common harrow. The expense of planting and hoeing an acre through the season varies from $1.50 to $2.50, according to speed of horse, man to operate, and land to work on.

C. H. Hayes, of Portsmouth, N. H., writes me that he hoed 20 acres of corn and potatoes in 1877, at the expense of $1.03 per acre, and better than men could do it with hand hoes. George H. Grace, of Ulysses, Butler County, Nebraska, writes me his corn was full 15 bushels of shelled corn more per acre where he used my machines and followed my system, than where he did not, no manure or fertilizers being used.

Rev. Dr. I. T. Tichenor, President of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, Auburn, Ala., after using, bought 8 machines, and writes us that "the Horse Cultivator and Hoe will revolutionize the cultivation of cotton in the whole cotton growing section." "Book me for another pair of your Horse Hoes next spring. My superintendent says he cannot get along without them."

D. P. Storrs, of Montgomery, Ala., writes, "There is nothing equals them for corn and cotton."

J. W. Sanborn, Superintendent of Agricultural College farm, at Hanover, N. H., after using one season, writes, "They are all that can be desired for hoeing corn and potatoes."

A. Town, Jonesville, Vt., after using a full set 8 years, writes that "They pay for themselves every year. Could not do without the Ross system and implements."

A. J. Brown, of Vernon, Vt., has eight acres of corn estimated to yield 75 bushels per acre. Planted and hoed through the season after the Ross system, for $6.87; indispensable with me."

Lorenzo Loel and F. A. Brown of Vernon, Vt., have planted and hoed about 50 acres of corn the past season, after the Ross system and implements, without the use of the hand hoe. Having used them 3 or 6 years each, we find nothing equals them for saving labor and doing the work.

L. H. Ross, of South Deerfield, Mass., planted 30 acres of corn, and hoed it three time, at an expense of 20 days work for man, at $35 per month, and 15 days work for horse with the Ross implements. No hand hoeing.

Benjamin D. Ware, of Marblehead, President of the Essex Co. Agricultural Society, writes in his report for 1877, that he planted his corn with the Ross & Co.'s planters, and cultivated wholly with his cultivators, without any hand labor. And this System left the crop clean of weeds and reduced the cost of cultivation very materially.

W. H. Flint, of Monson, Mass., writes in his report to the Scientific Farmer of his experiments of manures and fertilizers in 1877, that the work of planting and hoeing both corn and potatoes, was done after the Ross system and implements, without the use of the Hand hoe, only at the end of the rows, which left the crops clean of weeds.

E. O. Emmons, of Tatteville, Vt., writes his experiments in raising corn by hand labor, and also after the Ross system in 1877. The rows were 35 rods long, all manured, except the last 8 rows, was fertilized in the hill when planted. No. 1, 8 rows were planted and hoed through the season with hand hoes; took six hours to plant them. Produced 29½ baskets of ears. No. 2, 8 rows were planted and hoed after the Ross system, took man and horse 20 minutes to plant them, and hoed equally as quick with the Ross implements, and produced 35 baskets of ears. No. 3, 8 rows were planted and hoed after the Ross system, and fertilized in the drill; took the same time to plant and hoe them that it did No. 2, and produced 43½ baskets of ears.

By the above experiment, it is plain to be seen the amount of labor which can be saved and the increase of crop to be gained, by the Ross system of cultivation, over the old method of digging with hand hoes, and producing nothing backs, and my crops were free from weeds.

Send 25 cents for the Ross system of cultivation.

☞ We do not claim any fertilizing qualities in our machines, but do claim that the highest state of cultivation produces the largest crops, and that the Ross system and implements, strictly followed, produces the highest state of cultivation known. All machines warranted, and representations guaranteed if the system is strictly followed. Agents wanted who are practical farmers—NO OTHERS.

NEWPORT
The Paper for the Home Circle. Procure a Copy and Examine it Carefully. Single Numbers 5 Cents Each. $1.50 a Year when paid strictly in Advance.
apr21

The Newport Daily News and the Newport Journal.

The Newport Daily News is published every afternoon, (Sundays excepted,) at the News building, 13 Church street, by Davis & Pitman.

The Newport Journal is published at the same office every Saturday morning, and contains a selection of the best matter in the Daily, including editorial discussion of the topics of the week, literary miscellanies and at least one good story, the latest markets and a complete and comprehensive summary of the news, local and general. The Journal is a large, 32 column paper, and contains a large amount of reading matter that is valuable to readers in town or country who desire a good Newport paper, but who do not take a daily from this city.

Complaints regarding the irregular or improper delivery of either paper should be sent to the office at once.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The Daily News, $3 per annum, or 12 cents a week, payable to carrier.

The Newport Journal. Terms $2 00 a year. A discount of 50 cents is made when the WHOLE YEAR is paid STRICTLY IN ADVANCE. These terms are invariable.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Ordinary advertisements, $1 a square, for the first insertion, and 25 cents for each continuance. Ten lines or less, in this type, make a square. Advertisements in reading matter, are charged for, at 50 per cent. extra, and are subject to editorial revision. A discount on these rates is allowed on all advertisements ordered in the daily for one week or longer. Funeral notices 50 cents each. Yearly advertisers are limited to their immediate business and are allowed twenty five changes a year. No gratuitous advertising for any object. The circulations of the News and Journal being necessarily distinct, an advertisement inserted in both papers will reach entirely different sets of readers. As further inducement for advertisers to use both the News and Journal, a liberal discount on the combined rates is made.

PRINTING.

Connected with the News is a large and well appointed job printing office. All orders for work in this department will be promptly filled, and at reasonable prices. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

TO OUR PATRONS.

The publisher of the Newport Mercury has taken occasion, publicly and privately, to misrepresent the circulation of our papers as well as his own. In justice to ourselves and our advertisers, we have publicly denied the truthfulness of his statements and made a proposition to submit the proofs to a disinterested and impartial tribunal, which he declines, though persisting in his false statements. He probably refuses to exhibit his books in comparison with our own for the following reasons:

1.—They will show that he has not one half the circulation which he persistently and publicly claims.
2.—That we have more than three times the circulation that he ascribes to us, both in the city and county of Newport.
3.—That his circulation is less now than formerly and has been subject to a steady decline.
4.—That ours has regularly increased and is now larger than ever before.

Newport Daily News.

SATURDAY, APRIL 6, 1878.

THE DAY.

The premium on gold is less than one per cent.

Montgomery Blair is advised to "hire a hall" if Congress or the Supreme Court refuses to hear him.

The New England Methodist Conference objects to receiving ministers as members who indulge in the use of tobacco.

The majority in Congress prefer an ex-confederate to an ex-union soldier and so the brave Gen. Shields is laid aside.

Nearly one hundred boarders have moved into the Stewart Hotel for Women, and over two hundred applications have already been accepted.

Hon. Rowland G. Hazard, of Peacedale, donor of the new stone Town-house at Wakefield, cast the first ballot at the first town meeting held in the new building last Wednesday.

The Massachusetts Legislature has decided not to attempt the whiskey bell punch at present. The average legislator of that state feels that his salary is not sufficient for the occasion.

As Mr. J. B. Kilton, of Providence, will, with his family, make a trip to Europe this spring, he will not occupy his cottage at Conanicut Park until late in the season. Until his return it will be occupied by Capt. Jed Williams.

It is not yet determined whether Russia and England will compromise or fight. Both are calling out troops and laying in stores as if anticipating bloody times. And yet it would be difficult to tell what they are quarreling about.

Ten thousand Turkish troops are in and near Volo, and it is feared their desire for plunder, stimulated by the unpunished outrages in the neighboring villages, may lead them to sack the town, where thousands of women and children have taken refuge.

The Methodist ministers of New England Conference have voted to tax their salaries one per cent. in aid of those pastors of weak churches who do not receive a living support. Such action is highly creditable and eminently scriptural. They did the same thing last year.

Now that the subject of planting trees is occupying so much attention, we would once more remind the property owners on Broadway, from the State House to the city line, that they have a splendid opportunity to make an improvement that will not only add to the value of their estates but to the beauty and comfort of the city. That street should be planted at once.

The Democrats in Congress do not cordially welcome the return of Gen. Butler to their fold. His nomination of Gen. Shields for doorkeeper of the House has greatly embarrassed the managers. They don't want Gen. Shields, and they are not quite willing to vote him down, as he is deservedly popular with the masses of the party.

The report that most of our colored people refrained from voting at the last election is said to be incorrect. Not more than half a dozen expressed their disapprobation of the situation by pursuing such a course. As a whole, the colored voters of Newport are fully in accord with the principles and practices of the republican party and purpose to stand under the old flag.

The Philadelphia Press has the following exegesis of hard times: "There are forty millions of people in the United States. If each one economizes but ten dollars—saves that amount in food or clothing, or travel or luxury—the sum of that economy is a withdrawal of $400,000,000 from the circulation of the country, and, worse than that, a subtraction of $400,000,000 from the necessity of production. In other words, it is a paralytic stroke. If this is done several times we have a succession of paralytic strokes, and this is probably the secret of hard times."

The Washington Post accuses Vice President Wheeler of meanness because he rides to and from the capitol in a street car. If the vice president rode in his own carriage, the Post would probably call him a thief or an aristocrat. We remember to have heard something of that kind when Mr. and Mrs. Belknap rode in that laundaulet.

Packard has been nominated by the newspaper correspondents for Collector at New Orleans, but the president has not yet sent his name to the senate, and those who claim to be in confidence of the executive, claim that he never will send it. In due time everybody will learn that Mr. Hayes is as obstinate as his predecessor in the White House.

The Williamstown, Mass., Village Improvement Association have challenged the North Adams Society to meet them at the town line with a row of elm trees, the idea being to secure a line of trees on the south side of the highway from one village to the other, a distance of five miles. If abutting towns all over the State would accept this as an example worthy of emulation, Massachusetts would in twenty years be threaded with cool, shady and delightful avenues.

The Newport city election is at hand, and arrangements are in progress for shaping the results. There is considerable talk of caucuses and conventions to make party nominations, but we trust wiser counsels will prevail. When this has been attempted in times past the ward caucuses have sometimes been composed of but two or three men, and it is folly to suppose that the majority of its voters will be greatly influenced by nominations thus made. As a matter of fact party politics have no place in such local municipal affairs as ours. We need business men to look after business matters, and not politicians and managers of conventions, and whether the nominations are formally made or not the people will do about as they please.

PERSONALS.

......Hon. Alex. H. Stephens is sick with cholera morbus.

......Prof. William Everett, late of Harvard, has been put at the head of Adams Academy in place of Dr. Dimmock, deceased.

......Mr. George E. Whiting, the Boston organist, has been invited to take charge of the great organ building at Cincinnati, at a salary of $5000 a year.

......Charles Langheimer, the "Dutchman" who is so graphically described in Charles Dickens' "American Notes," was discharged from the Eastern Penitentiary of Pennsylvania last week. A collection was made among the officials for him, and he announced his intention of leaving Philadelphia, where he is too well known, and going to Michigan.

......The favorite bullfighter of Madrid, Frascuelo, possesses a fortune of $400,000, a magnificent house and a wife who is called the prettiest woman in the city. He is also a member of the most aristocratic club in Madrid. He took part in the late bull-fight before the King and Queen, on which occasion his costume was literally covered with diamonds.

THE OLD DUCK FACTORY.

In A. D. 1810, in one of our burial grounds in Warner street there stood a long, narrow, wooden building, three stories high, painted once a dingy yellow with a red roof. This was the Old Duck Factory as it used to be called. It had a belfrey, the bell of which, at early dawn, used to dispel with unpleasant sound, the morning slumbers of the weary workers, who toiled within its walls, for fourteen long hours each day. The power of this factory was contained in the muscles of those that wrought within. The looms were massive as the business carried on was weaving Raven's Duck. Poor, souls ! the ravens should have fed them, as surely their pay could not. Many of our oldest inhabitants worked in that building under the rules below, and some of whom are now well off in this world's good.

JOHN CRAIG, Sergt. Sig. Ser. U. S. A.

Announcements for Tomorrow.

Rev. Dr. Stockbridge, of Providence, will preach at the United Congregational Church.

Sarah B. Satterthwaite, a minister from England, will be at Friends' Meeting in the morning and evening.

There will be celebration of the Lord's supper at Shiloh Baptist Church in the afternoon. The sermon will be omitted.

The right hand of fellowship will be given to candidates by Rev. S. J. Wheeler at the Central Baptist Church in the morning.

The quarterly praise meeting, with orchestral accompaniment, occurs at the Union Congregational Church in the evening.

There will be Divine service with sermon and the Holy Communion at Zion Church at 10.45. At 7.30 there will be evening prayer and sermon.

The sacraments of the Lord's supper and baptism will be administered in the morning at the First Methodist Episcopal Church, and in the afternoon the services will be as usual.

Tomorrow, being the first Sunday in the month, the Holy Communion will be administered in the morning at Trinity Church, and the evening service will be in the church, at half-past seven o'clock, at which there will be the ordinance of baptism.

At the Unitarian Church the subject of the pastor's discourse will be "How I Became a Unitarian"—the narrative of a personal religious experience under the Orthodox and the Unitarian faiths, with a comparison of the excellencies and advantages of each.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

—Col. A. G. Thorpe, one of our summer residents, is stopping at the Perry House.

—Col. Cozzens of the Governor's staff will be married on the 17th inst., to Miss Abby Powell.

—Capt. Seth W. Macy has bought five shares of the National Bank of Rhode Island at $121.

—Rev. Mr. Jeter has received two donation visits from his people, at his new residence, 30 Levin street, recently.

—There is now being built in New Bedford a boiler 10 feet in height by six in diameter, of 80-horse power, for porgy fishing steamer A. T. Serell, of Tiverton.

—Rev. J. R. Duganne, having completed his lecture upon "The Life and Labors of Bishop Griswold," who for thirty years exercised Episcopal jurisdiction over the diocese of Rhode Island, has consented to deliver it in the chapel of Zion Church, on Monday evening next. We understand that the lecture is free to all who choose to attend.

—Thursday night some unknown persons stole Mr. E. L. Williams's sail boat from its moorings at the Old Mill wharf. Yesterday morning it was found drifting near the wharf at Fort Adams and was secured by some of the soldiers. The indications were that some parties had given up the job of going to sea owing to the threatening weather, for, in the boat, were found a cask of water, some beans, potatoes, a stove pipe, kindling wood and a pair of old boots. The sail was dragging in the water.

CHURCH ELECTIONS.

The Quarterly Conference of the Thames-street M. E. Church was held at the parsonage last evening. The Presiding Elder Rev. Dr. Morrison was present and Mr. W. H. Crandall, 2nd, acted as Secretary. The following officers were chosen for the ensuing year:—

Stewards—Isaac W. Sherman, Edward Young, William J. Holt, Seth W. Swinburne, John J. Carry, A. C. Titus, John B. Mason.

Recording Steward and Treasurer—Isaac W. Sherman.

District Steward—A. C. Titus.

Trustees—William J. Holt, Isaac W. Sherman, Nathan G. Kenyon, Edward S. Hildreth, Seth W. Swinburne, Edward W. Young, William Champlain, George Stanhope T. F. Kaull.

Committee on Sunday School—Edward Young, Frank Silvia, T. F. Kaull, Mrs. S. W. Swinburne, Mrs. W. H. Crandall, 2nd.

On Missions—Isaac W. Sherman, William H. Crandall, 2nd., John B. Mason.

Church Extension—C. L. Chapman, John J. Carry, Seth W. Swinburne.

The pastor's report showed that during the past quarter, 16 had been received on probation, 2 in full membership and 1 by letter. The efficient pastor, Rev. Mr. Harlow, in his report announced that he proposed to retire from the active ministry and that he would not accept a call during the coming conference year, on account of ill health.

The sunday school report showed that during the year the average attendance was 175, the largest number present at one time, 239; the smallest, 51. There are 9 officers, 27 teachers, 7 substitute teachers and 225 scholars. There were 536 visitors during the year; 112 new scholars have joined, 50 have retired from the school during the year.

The conference voted to leave the appointment of a minister to the church, at the approaching Annual Conference, entirely with the Presiding Bishop and his cabinet without making any request.

CAPT. MAHONEY.

Capt. John Mahony, a highly respected citizen of this city, died on Wednesday evening at the age of about sixty-five years. Capt. Mahony was for many years a shipmaster and subsequently a railroad contractor. He was a prominent Catholic and a member of St. Mary's Catholic Benevolent Society: and was also one of our most generous and public spirited citizens—always foremost in acts of charity and most attentive in his attention and the care extended to the needy and indigent. His loss will be keenly felt by his countrymen in this city. His funeral took place on the 5th inst from St. Mary's Church, attended by a large concourse of our native and adopted citizens. The funeral services were performed by the Rev. Father Grace, whose remarks were impressive and most appropriate to the occasion. K.

LITTLE COMPTON.

The town had quite an exciting contest over the election of Representative to the General Assembly at the late election, and there is still some strong party feeling over the matter. As a result the veteran politician Hon. Nathaniel Church was defeated by his opponent Mr. A. T. Seabury. Either of these gentlemen is worthy the position.

The re-election of Rev. H. M. Rice as superintendent of Schools gives general satisfaction. Most of the schools are in excellent condition. The sum of $1500 was appropriated for school purposes. The attempt to reduce and limit salaries of teachers was a failure but there is no doubt that the matter will be prudently attended to.

ELECTION ECHOES.

Just because Van Zandt carried Rhode Island, a hundred editors rise to remark that "the Dutch have taken Holland."—[Boston Transcript.

The Worcester Spy has discovered a curious fact—"That the Democratic party can always carry Rhode Island on any day of the year except election day.

Though the Rhode Island Republicans didn't make any platform, it is significant that Gov. Van Zandt, who has just been re-elected by an increased majority, is a very strong Hayes man.—[Springfield Republican.

The Providence Journal poked some good natured fun at the Democratic candidate for Governor of Little Rhody, during the recent campaign. But it gives him credit for one good thing, refusing to contribute any money for any other than legitimate purposes for the election.—[N. B. Standard.

And now the well known Rhode Island letters and editorials picturing the fright of the Republicans in that State and telling the certainty of Democratic success this time are once more laid away by the Boston Democratic papers until the next election. They have done their unappreciated duty a great many years.—[Hartford Courant.

THINGS BY THEIR RIGHT NAMES.

I wish young women could be taught that it does not add a cubit to the stature of a house to call it a "residence;" that a church or even a meeting-house is as venerable as the "sacred edifice;" that it is no more genteel to say "retire" than to go to bed; that the garment so fondly, slowly covered with side plaitings, so coldly and quickly frayed out along the paving stones, is really a gown and not a "promenade costume;" that it need not bring a blush to the cheek of even Mr. Podsnap's Young Person to say leg, instead of "limb," when leg is meant; that the supper at an evening party is not "the entertainment;" and that there are well-founded objections to the use of "nicely" as an adjective describing the state of one's health. "To clothe low creeping matter with fine language," said old Fuller "is not fine fancy, but flat foolery." It rather loads than raises a wren to fasten the feathers of an ostrich to her wings.—[Mrs. C. Runkle.

MATRIMONIAL LOCK-OUT.—A beautiful lady, whom I admire very much, recently said on meeting me: "Did you know what came of my going with yourself and friends last evening?" "What happened?" I exclaimed: "What could have happened?" "O, nothing, only I was locked out and my husband wouldn't let me in, and I was obliged to stay at a neighbor's house, away from my darlings that was all." And after all your anxiety to get home so early, why I think it's awful. Didn't you ring the bell hard enough?" "I rang the bell half an hour, and I was ashamed to keep Mr. and Mrs. Gates waiting any longer, so I just went to my friend's door and she answered very quickly." This lady's husband is a Congressman, who expects his wife to be at home always, and after trying three years of petty martyrdom, and thirsting for society, lectures, concerts and social pleasure, she has rebelled, and now goes out occasionally with her friends.—[Cleveland Plain Dealer, Washington Letter.

Johns Hopkins University has got 105 students. Fifty-four of them are graduates of other colleges; twenty-four are matriculated students, and the rest are special students. The authorities, desiring to promote as far as possible the higher education, have admitted to certain special courses of study those who were not able, by reason of other engagements, to devote all their time to university work, and yet were prepared by previous culture to profit by some of the special advantages which are here afforded. Some who have already entered upon the profession of law, medicine and theology are thus pursuing, in an orderly and systematic maner, the courses of history and political science, of chemistry and biology, and of classical and Oriental philology.

There is in Berlin a society called "The Society of Collectors of Cigar Cuttings." Every Christmas the proceeds of the cigar ends collected by its agents are applied to the purchase of clothes for poor orphan children. This is emphatically a women's charity, for the system of collections is for the ladies to persuade their gentlemen friends to save their cigar ends for this purpose. They propose to raise enough money in this way to found a large orphan home.

The question of opening the Paris exposition on Sundays is to be decided by the national assembly. It is calculated that the state would loose a million of francs by closing on that day.

The Duke of Westminister's income is ten dollars per minute. Poor man, how inconvenient to make him reach out and pull in ten dollars every minute. That is a fearful penalty to pay for being a Duke.

Mrs. Mary A. Livermore has lectured more than 120 times this season. She expects to go to Europe in May.

BOOKS WHICH NOBODY WANTS TO READ.

Senator Anthony has introduced a bill to authorize the sale of "extra copies of public documents" at the cost price of printing and binding. To use an Hibernicism, it is a pity that all of the copies of these documents are not extra—that is, that only such papers are printed as are wanted by somebody and for which somebody will show a desire by offering to pay for them. It may be said that there are documents which ought to be preserved which are not of enough interest to private persons or associations to be bought by them; but this is begging the question. Why should that be printed which nobody cares to read? Why should not this measure of interest be the test of the expediency of publication? Documents for which there is no demand may well be preserved in manuscript, until such time as somebody shall find it worth while to dig the archives and print them. Mr. Anthony's bill will at least stop in part the wasteful and useless distribution of these documents among persons who value them only at their worth as old paper. It is still provided that a regular edition of twelve hundred and twenty-one copies shall be printed for the use of heads of departments and members of Congress and "such incorporated college, public library athenæum, literary and scientific institution, board of trade, or public association in the United States as may be designated by each Senator, Representative and delegate in Congress to receive them: provided, that said documents shall be furnished to such institutions only as shall signify a willingness to pay the cost of transportation of the same." It is not perfectly clear whether each member shall have the right to designate only one or as many as he pleases of these literary depositaries; but the condition that the recipient shall be willing to pay the freight charges is some check upon the proceeding.

It is to be hoped that Senator Anthony or some other member of Congress will improve upon this bill and that the time will come when the government no more than any other publisher will print a book which nobody wants to read.—[Post.

The operatives in the Sprague mills in Warwick are uneasy because of a reduction of pay, and a few of them have resorted to utterly indefensible violence. A disorderly band from Quidneck went to Natick, yesterday afternoon, and broke open the door and drove the operatives from one of the mills with considerable violence, and did much damage to the property. A small detachment of police from this city was sent down to aid the local police in restoring and maintaining order. It is possible that none of the mills will start up today.

West Virginia is getting a bad reputation. The authorities have not hanged a murderer for four months, but during that time mobs have slain, with every imaginable detail of ferocity, no less than 10 human beings, one of whom was a woman. The worst of it is that in five of these cases the mob had no means of knowing whether their victims were guilty or not, and at least two of them are known to have been innocent. The Governor is apparently much disturbed at this disgraceful state of things, but has as yet taken no vigorous measures to reform it.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

INCURRING A TREMENDOUS RISK.

They incur a tremendous risk who sojourn or emigrate to reside in districts where malarial diseases are prevalent, without medicinal means of fortifying their systems against the periodic scourge. The danger to bilious subjects, and to those who lack bodily stamina, is particularly serious. A preventive and curative agent of known anti-malarial efficacy should be frequently used and constantly kept at hand by such persons; and on none can they rely with such certainty of protection and aid as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This grand specific roots out every vestige of the malarial prison system, and endows it with an amount of vital activity and repelling power that nullifies the influence of maisma. It also prevents and remedies disorders of the stomach, bowels and liver, which are particularly prevalent in malarious regions, and is an incomparable general invigorant. ap3-1w-nkj

THINK OF IT, that a Cough or Cold neglected, may lead to serious consequences: in the early stage of Throat and Lung diseases, Madame Porter's Cough Balsam is an invaluable remedy, can be taken by the oldest person or youngest child. ENJOY LIFE.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means for enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worried out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof that Green's August Flower will make them as free from disease as when born. Dyspepsia and liver complaint is the direct cause of seventy five per cent. of such maladies as biliousness, indigestion, sick headache, costiveness, nervous prostration, dizziness of the head, palpitation of the heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it. feb23 eod-nkj

WONDER WORLD.

BY
MARIE PABKE and MARGERY DEANE.
ILLUSTRATED BY LUCY G. MORSE.

"A feast to lovers of wonder lore."—[Albany Eve. Post.

"These wonderful tales are deservedly popular for the long evenings of winter and will be warmly welcomed in this excellent translation."—[New York Evening Post.

"The extraordinary variety of the sources ransacked for these literary treasures gives a peculiar interest to the book, which becomes in a manner representative of many different forms of folk-lore. Readers, young and old, will find much to entertain them in the volume."—[Boston Journal.

"Many of them are really very beautiful tales and deserve to be permanently embalmed in our wonder lore. They will not only enrapture the young, but interest those of maturer years."—[Albany Eve. Journal.

"A pleasant collection of some of the best of modern and mediæval fairy stories, well translated."—[Zion's Herald.

"The story of Tola the Archer is a characteristic and interesting tale from the Japanese, by Prof. W. E. Griffis, the best authority on Japanese literature in America."—[Boston Transcript.

"Whoever wishes to see how irrespective of nation, clime or complexion is the lore of the mystic and marvellous; in a word how innate in man is the sense of the supernatural or divine, will read this book. * * * We are grossly mistaken if our young friends and their elders too, do not take to Wonder World."—[New York Christian Age.

"Stories equally charming from their novelty and valuable as types of the people from whose literature they are chosen. Many are really very beautiful tales and deserve to be permanently embalmed in our wonder lore. Not only enrapture the young, but charm those of maturer years."—[Clyde Times.

"After a careful examination of the book we can truly say that the collectors have done their work with excellent taste and rare good judgment and have made excellent selections. * * * A source of perpetual delight to the lad and lassie fortunate enough to possess it. It is certainly fascinating to children of a larger growth."—[Fort Wayne Sentinel.

"The volume shows excellent discrimination and being handsomely brought out must be ranked with the foremost ventures of the present year. It merits a permanent sale long after the gift season has gone by."—[The Nation.

"Clear type, fine paper, pretty binding. * * * Wonder World will prove a popular favorite, and a permanent addition to the lore of fairy land. The last story is alone worth the price of the volume."—Christian Register.

Conanicut Park!

A PLEASANT SUMMER RESORT.

THE HOTEL at Conanicut Park will be kept during the coming season in the same general style as heretofore. It has been renovated and will be in complete order for the comfort and convenience of guests. No pains or expense will be spared to make it an attractive home for such as desire a seaside resort. For terms, &c., which will be found very low in view of the accommodations, address or inquire of MRS. A. J. CORY, on the premises.

Furnished Cottages.

SEVERAL FURNISHED COTTAGES are to let for the season at a low rental. These may be had with board at the hotel when desired; or fully fitted for housekeeping. Price from $250 to $500 for the full season.

All the steamers, plying between Newport and Providence, stop at the Park, and communication can be had with either city at all hours. Time to Newport, less than thirty minutes. This gives residents all the advantages of the larger cities at a small fraction of the cost. As a quiet summer resort there is no place in the vicinity so desirable. For particulars concerning cottages, &c., address or inquire of J. D. DAVIS, at Daily News office, Newport, R. I.

Dry Goods.

APRIL, 1878.

APRIL, 1st being the commencement of the second quarter of the year all bills contracted during the first quarter will be presented for payment. That quite a number of those bills will be paid within a short time is a foregone conclusion, for there are many grand people in this world. The undersigned is sure that if all receiving them could but fully understand how much he wants and needs to have them paid that there would be crowded there about the paying desk, and that the payers would leave with that tranquil and balmy condition of mind which follows an act of justice and right doing. Let all who read this strive for the tranquility and balm.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE.

BY VIRTUE of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed made by Aaron H. Malbone, of the city, county and state of New York, to John N. A. Griswold, then of Portsmouth, Rhode Island, dated July 11th, A. D. 1866, and recorded in Book 17 of the Land Evidence of the town of Portsmouth, Rhode Island, at pages 327 and 328, the undersigned will sell at public auction on the premises at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, on Monday, April 8, A. D. 1878, all the right, title and interest which the said Aaron H. Malbone had at the time of the execution of the said mortgage in and to the following described parcels of real estate, for the satisfaction of the principal and interest of said mortgage, and the expenses incident to advertising and selling the same premises, the condition of said mortgage having been broken, to wit:—

A certain farm or tract of land situated in the said town of Portsmouth with all the buildings and improvements thereon standing, containing one hundred and ninety-five acres more or less and bounded northerly on land of Samuel Clarke, easterly on the sea or the water, southerly on land of the heirs of Isaac Chase and westerly partly on land of Samuel Clarke, partly on land of Mary Wilcox, partly on lands of Samuel Slocum, partly on land now or late of John L. Allen and partly on a highway or however otherwise bounded.

Also a certain tract or parcel of land containing nine acres and eight hundred and twenty-three thousandths (9.823) more or less, lying and being in the said town of Portsmouth and bounded as follows:—Northerly on land of Samuel Slocum, easterly and southerly on land of said Aaron H. Malbone and westerly on the public road.

Also a certain tract or parcel of land situate in said town of Portsmouth, containing about thirteen acres of land bounded as follows, viz:—Northerly on land now or late of Samuel Slocum, easterly on land of Aaron H. Malbone and southerly and westerly on Highways.

The undersigned gives notice to said Aaron H. Malbone and to all others interested that he intends to bid at the said sale. JOHN N. A. GRISWOLD,

SATURDAY, APRIL 6, 1878.

Anna's Plan.

Mr. Gracey stood before the fire and poked the glowing coals vigorously. When he was vexed he always did that—by way, I suppose, of satisfying his desire to strike whoever he happened to be vexed with.

This time it was his pretty daughter, Anna, who was making her shining knitting needles fly faster than her father did the poker, while her bright brown eyes gazed somewhat defiantly at the form of her father as he stooped over the fire, and her pretty red mouth was compressed with a determined expression.

Mr. Gracey's head was shocky and sandy now, but if one had seen his portrait as a young man it would have shown a dark auburn which lay in waves, like Anna's own, and in the face a strong resemblance to hers.

She resembled him in his strong will too, and their opinions clashed oftener than was quite agreeable to the gentle mother, who wanted everything to go on smoothly.

This time it was Anna's beau,—indeed her accepted lover, who had once had the father's consent—who was the cause of the trouble.

There was a dance over at Westfield Corners, as it was called, and Anna was determined to go with her lover, Richard Landon, and her father was determined she should go with a city cousin who was visiting them, in their own trap, and if he could have seen a letter from Richard, which was snugly hidden in Anna's pocket, he might have been more determined than he was.

"Father, you never once objected to Richard till you had that dispute with his father about the land."

"Maybe not," replied Gracey, straightening up his tall figure; "but I've vowed since to have nothing to do with the whole set of Landons. Like father, like son. Nobody knows how Richard's going to turn out. I've made up my mind I won't have him poking round here any longer."

"But, father, we had your consent, once."

"Don't care if you did. I take it back, that's all. Now, there's your Cousin Tom wants you as bad as Richard does; why can't you take him, like a sensible girl and be satisfied?"

"Father, nobody thinks much of Thomas Wilby but you. I don't believe half the tales he tells about being so well off. I never will marry him, I tell you."

"We'll see about that. As to this dance tonight, you can either let Tom drive you over, or you stay at home."

It was on Anna's lips to say she would stay at home; but Richard's plans and pleadings spoke for him.

"I'd rather go with my cousin than stay at home," she said, quietly.

"Very well, then, you can go," said the father.

Anna turned and left the room, but there was something in her air all the morning which made the old gentleman very suspicious.

So at dinner he remarked:

"I believe I'll ride over to the Corners and see the young people's frolic tonight. I reckon they won't turn me out if I don't dance myself, and I haven't seen a young folks' party these twenty years. Yes, I think I'll saddle old Aleck and ride over."

"Do, uncle! That will be jolly!" said Thomas Wilby, while into Anna's face there stole a look of blank consternation, which did not escape Mr. Gracey, and he slyly chuckled to himself:

"Aha! reckon I've matched 'em this time!"

But Anna's wits were busy, too, while she was helping her mother wash the dinner dishes. Suddenly, as they stood putting away the last shining tins in the tidy pantry, Anna caught her mother by the shoulder, and said:

"Mother, I have your consent to marry Richard?"

"Yes, dear daughter. Richard is worthy, we know."

And you don't want to see me marry cousin Thomas?"

"Oh, Anna, I had rather see you dead!"

"Well my dear mother, I don't think I'll die, and I know I won't marry cousin. But now, mother, I'll tell you a secret. I can trust you?"

"Yes, Anna."

"Well, dear, Richard wrote me to meet him at the dance tonight. Then we would slip away, go over to Westfield and get married tomorrow morning. What do you say, mother dear?"

The good little woman began to cry, but she said:

"Do as you please, Anna; I can't blame you. The life that your father leads you is pretty hard, I know. But oh, Anna, your father is going to the Corners!"

"Yes, mother, on purpose to watch us: so Richard's plan won't work. But I have another one. I can count on your consent, dear, and a good word with father afterwards?"

"Yes, yes sobbed the mother.

"That's a dear, good mother," said Anna, kissing her. Don't think I don't appreciate your sacrifice, for I do. And after all's done I'm sure father has too much sense not to make the best of it."

"I'll do my best for you, dear."

"I know you will, mother! I won't tell you my plan, for it might get you into trouble. And I must get to work now, for I have no time to lose."

Anna found a chance to send her lover a little note, which contained only these words:

"DEAR RICHARD: I cannot go to the Corners. But meet me at Willis's Half-way House about eight o'clock with a fast horse and chaise. Don't be astonished if I come alone, but only be ready for me quick.

ANNA."

And her messenger brought her lover's answer, written hastily upon a scrap of her own note, and simply saying:

All right, and all ready.

RICHARD."

Anna was dressed and in good spirits when her father rode away at night, and very soon Thomas drove the light chaise round to the door, and helped her to her seat, quite delighted with her gracious friendliness, for his cousin Anna was not always ready to show him much favor.

It was a glorious moonlight night, every leaf and twig showing against the white snow.

They rode gaily along for a mile or two, and Anna took special pains to make herself agreeable, until she thought it was about time to set her plan working.

Suddenly, on pretence of arranging the rug, Anna stooped over and dexterously dropped her muff into the snow.

She gave a light scream.

"Oh! I've dropped my muff, and it was new, a Christmas present from father. Do please get out and get it. I can hold the horse."

Unsuspicious and obliging, Thomas handed his deceitful little cousin the reins and sprang out to get the muff.

Quick as thought, Anna drew the reins tightly, caught the light whip from its socket, gave the swift horse a cut, and sent it flying down the road as light as an arrow, while poor Thomas, not comprehending her game as yet, ran shouting after them.

But he was soon left far, far behind, while on flew the bay horse, guided by Anna's steady touch, until she drew it up, reeking with foam, under the long shed at Willis's.

Another chaise was there, and in the moonlight Anna recognized Richard's fast gray mare.

He came forward at once.

"Is it you, Anna?"

"Yes, Richard," she said, springing out. "Tell the boy to blanket my horse; he's all in a sweat, and keep him here till Cousin Tom comes for him. He'll be here soon, I fancy. Are you ready?"

"Yes, all ready. Jump into my chaise quick, Anna. We'll explain as we go along. You'll go to Westfield with me dear?"

"Anywhere you please, Dick, only let us be quick. Father's at the Corners."

Dick put her into his chaise, gave a few brief orders to the astonished groom, and was far on the road in a minute more.

Long Mr. Gracey waited at the dance, but neither Tom, Richard nor Anna came.

At last, convinced something was wrong, he mounted his horse and rode back, meeting Thomas half-way from Willis's with his news.

Thomas was for instant pursuit, but the old gentleman vowed nobody should go after her or bring her back: she had made her own bed and she might lay on it for all he cared. So home went the old father, and nursed his wrath until the next morning, when a note was brought from Anna, begging Thomas's pardon for the cavalier way in which she was obliged to desert him the night before, saying that Richard and herself were married, and gone home to Father Landon's, and were waiting to know if they might come over and ask her parents' forgiveness.

Now Mr. Gracey did know when to make the best of a thing, and he admired his daughter the more for the will and spirit which equalled his own.

So after fuming and fretting awhile, he said:

"Well, I give in. She's a match for me! Real Gracey pride that! Wife, score up your fattest turkey, and I'll go and bring them home to dinner."

CATARRH

A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

30 Years a Physician. 12 Years a Sufferer. Tried Regular Remedies. Tried Patent Medicines. Permanently cured by

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—Sirs: I have practised medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with Catarrh in the nasal passages, fauces and larynx. I have used everything in the materia medica without any permanent relief, until finally I was induced to try a patent medicine (something that we allopathists are very loth to do). I tried —— and divers others until I got hold of yours. I followed the directions to the letter, and am happy to say I have had a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is certainly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours, respectfully,
D. W. GRAY, M. D.,
Of Dr. D. W. Gray & Son, Physicians and Druggists, Muscatine, Iowa.
MUSCATINE, IOWA, March 27, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes which in many cases accompany a severe case of Catarrh. The inflamed and diseased condition of the mucous membrane is the cause of all these troubles; and until the system has been brought properly under the influence of the RADICAL CURE, perfect freedom from them cannot be reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is coupled with the statement that within five years over 250 different remedies for Catarrh have been placed on sale, and to-day, with one or two exceptions, their names cannot be recalled by the best-informed druggist. Advertising may succeed in forcing a few sales, but, unless the remedy possess undoubted specific medical properties, it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00. Sold by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.
Great Through Line
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE.

The attention of the traveling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

CONSTRUCTION AND EQUIPMENT
THE

The Safety Appliances

in use on this line well illustrate the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed

THE BLOCK SYSTEM of SAFETY SIGNALS,
Janney Coupler, Buffer and Platform,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,

forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

PULLMAN PALACE CARS
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
